

Callow Street

Chelsea SW3

2 Bedrooms, 2 Bathrooms For 4 guests

Beyond a row of red-brick façades, contemporary interiors and playful design bring an uplifting feel to this twobedroom apartment in Chelsea.

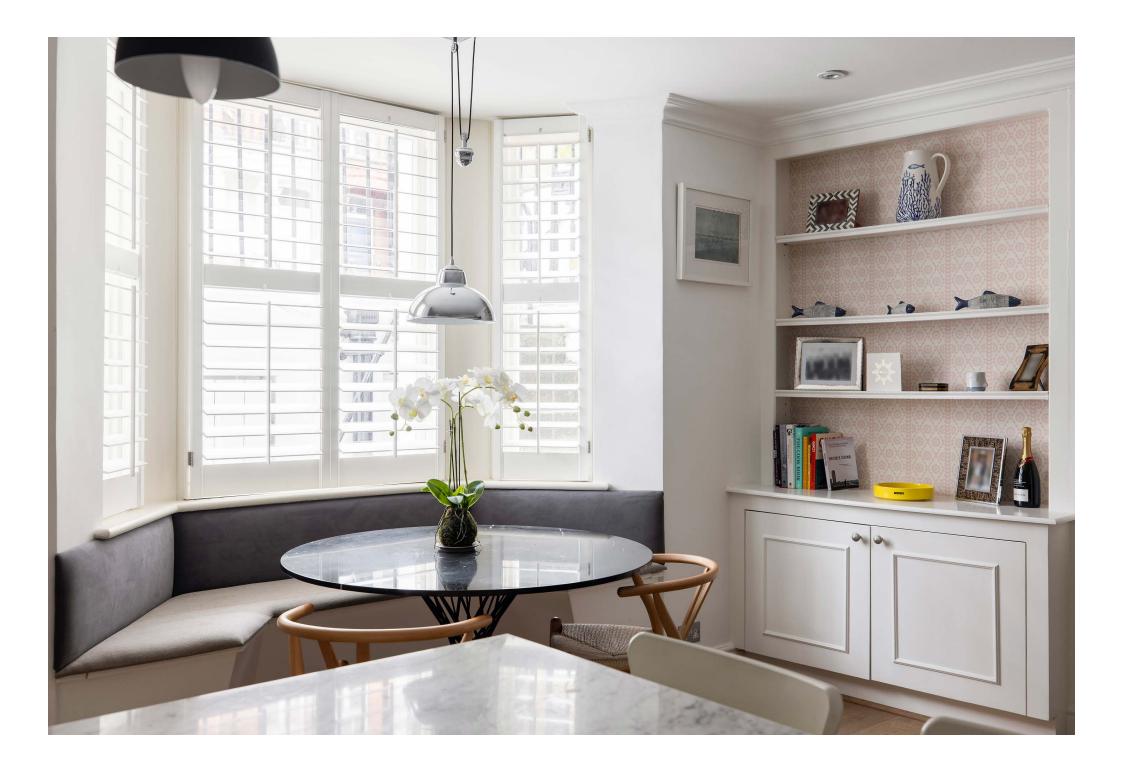

From the entrance itself, there's a playful feel to Callow Street. Osborne & Little Portovenere wallpaper creates a warm welcome, featuring vibrant palm trees and painted houses. Through a glass panelled door, the open-plan kitchen and reception room showcases a natural flow between spaces for cooking, dining and lounging.

Cream coloured cabinetry forms an L-shaped kitchen – integrated appliances and open shelving creating a sleek feel. Matte black pendant lights subtly define the space, casting a soft glow over a light grey marble island.

Flooding the room in natural light, a bay window is the backdrop for banquette seating – a bright space to dine or linger on slow mornings. The opposite area forms a relaxed place to lounge. Sink into the inky blue velvet sofa, its tone mimicked in the minimalist artwork overhead. Flanking an elegant feature fireplace, pops of pink add a tasteful touch of colour to recessed shelving.

Wood floors lead the way to an airy bedroom, striped candy-coloured wallpaper enhancing the sense of space.

Wood floors lead the way to an airy bedroom, striped candy-coloured wallpaper enhancing the sense of space. Thoughtfully designed floor-toceiling integrated wardrobes sit to either side of the room. Laze over the expansive black bed, making the most of a widescreen TV, or draw back curtains and step out to an enclosed private patio. Serving this bedroom, a spacious family bathroom washed in light cream tones is complete with a bathtub.

At the rear of the home – an additional bedroom with an equally calming presence. White shutters reveal two generous sash windows, casting light across built-in wardrobes. Adorning the walls, curated art lends a sophisticated feel. Soothing hues continue in the en suite bathroom, featuring a generous walk-in shower.
